It's that time of year again. The weather is cooler, the days are shorter, and nights are longer. Winter has arrived. Christmas is just around the corner, so remember to spend time with the ones you love. Don't get so caught up in the rush of the season that you forget the real meaning of Christmas.

Take a look at Pages 6 and 7 that feature our "Campground Highlight" for the The Citrus Valley MH & RV Park in Texas and Pelican RV Resort & Marina in Florida. These are just two of our newest parks.

Barbara Oliver, Page 8, takes us on a few more Day Trips ... this time to Kansas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. Love Smores? Take a look on Page 11 for the Top Six Smore Recipes. Then build a fire and make some delicious Smores!

Still haven't finished your Christmas shopping? Well, look no further! Give the gift that will make a special person in your life "smile big" whenever they "save big" using their Passport America gift membership. See Page 12 for details.

Great news! Our 30th edition of the Passport America International Camping Directory is being printed as I write! The new directories should start shipping in mid-January 2021. Passport America has over 1450 Quality Campgrounds and Resorts, and we are growing daily!

Big Buck Resort, Hornsby, TN — my wife and I stayed at Big Buck Resort and Campground in Hornsby TN., our first night on a trip east to the Smoky Mountains. Of course it was near dark because of leaving home late, but because the owner was so very friendly about using my PA discount and finding me a spot to camp I felt very welcome there. Even more inviting was the delicious aromas coming from the restaurant that is open on Fridays and Saturdays! We stayed one night on our way back home and the staff person who checked us in was just as friendly as the owner. If PA wants a star rating from me, Big Buck Resort And Campground gets Five Stars!

- Gary Anderson

Carrollwoods RV Park At Grapefull Sisters Vineyard, Tabor City, NC — Lovely, peaceful location. Several activities for folks to try. Looks like a little chapel on property. Wine tasting on site. Very fast internet (I clocked it at about 10mps) which was plenty for me to handle what I needed. Good utilities. Sites are level. I had a pleasant stay here.

- Michael Miller

My Favorite Campground, New Waverly, TX — My husband and I spent just one night here with our RV. Sending link to my children and grandchildren for family get together. Perfect spot.

- Marless Owen

Route 66 RV Park, Edgewood, NM — Great place to stay the night. Clean and well managed. Ill stay here again

- Tom Passmore

Southern Aire RV Resort, Thonotosassa, FL — My wife and I just purchased a new Class A and needed a place to stay for the night before starting out on our trip to Texas. We called Southern Aire RV Resort and was able to get a site last minute. The staff were so friendly and helpful. They guided us to a nice shaded pull-through site which was level and large enough for our 40' and toad. The campground was very quiet and peaceful. There were many seasonal residents who were all friendly and a joy to chat with. When we are back in the Tampa area, we will be staying here again.

- Alex Solon

Cowboys and Angels Retreat, Mountain Home, TX — We stopped at Cowboys & Angels Retreat in Mountain Home TX off I-10 and spent 3 nights in a most unique setting. It was a gated property (3 years new) to keep their many varieties of wild life in. We enjoyed watching the animals while there, and the owners/staff were all so nice. The campground has back ins, pull throughs, & cabins. Owner spoke of so many future plans including expanding the wedding venue and working with near by cities to bring in tourism. We intend to go back to see the progress & enjoy the peace and quiet. This place is awesome and will grow to be most excellent.

- Dawn Gogin

Epsom Valley Campground, Epsom, NH — We planned to stay here for a week and ended up staying for a month. The owners were very nice and accommodating. We had a few personal setbacks (trailer, truck, and a fall) and they were able to work with us through it all. The staff was helpful and lent a hand when we were in need of assistance. Thank you so much. We hope to return some day.

- Larayne Dukes

Rincon Country West RV Resort, Tucson, AZ — We stayed for 5 days starting 10/21/2020 at Rincon Country West RV Resort in Tucson, AZ. This Passport America Park is a bargain! Our deluxe pull thru site has a FHU, cable, a charcoal grill, table and grass! There are separate dog parks for large and small dogs plus a dog agility training park. Beautiful pool (open!), multiple spotless laundry rooms, library, etc. Everyone has been very friendly even though we're only here for a few nights before moving on to Yuma on Saturday.

Day Tripping Again ...

Text & Photos
by Barbara Oliver

In the RVA65 issue we had shared a little day tripping in Arizona. We were at it again just recently but in three different states. There is so much to see in this beautiful country, even during all the unusual events of 2020.

SOUTHEAST KANSAS

ENGINE #1023 is one of the 2,000 steam locomotives remaining in the United States but thought to be the last known surviving Kansas City Southern steam engine. Weighing in at 120-tons, it stands as a sentinel in the Heart of the Heartland Railroad Museum in Carona, Kansas.

In July of 1906 Engine #1023 was built as Engine #488 by the Pittsburgh, PA Locomotive Works. In 1925 it underwent a major overhaul and was retrofitted to burn oil and re-designated as Engine #1023 with a new home in the Kansas City Southern rail yards at Pittsburg, KS.

It worked as a switch engine until the 1950s where it was phased out of service and replaced by diesel engines. It was sold to the city of Pittsburg for $1.00 when it was finally retired in 1955. For over 50 years it sat at Schlanger Park, slowly rusting away as the constant exposure to rain, snow and sun took its toll on the workhorse. With no money to restore it, city officials decided in September 2012, to let the Heart of the Heartland Museum take it over.

Engine #1023 is a reminder that steam locomotives had a huge impact not only in Southeast Kansas but the entire United States. It provided quicker transportation and more jobs, which in turn brought in more people to the cities. The steam locomotive was an icon of the industrial revolution in many countries throughout the world.

OKLAHOMA

He went by many nicknames... The Commerce Comet, The Mick and Muscles. “The Commerce Comet” is a reference to Mickey Charles Mantle’s days spent working in the mines of Commerce, Oklahoma. And as a result of this work, he grew stronger and thus became known as “Muscles.”

Commerce, found in the northwest corner of the state, was a rough place to live and mining was the only industry. When Mickey was 3 years old, his family moved into the small modest home at 319 South Quincy Street. At the age of 5 or 6, his father Mutt and grandfather, Charlie would start teaching him to hit. The tin barn, still standing, was used as their backstop.

In the 1950s, his father’s dream and Mickey’s hard work took him from the zinc and lead mining district of Oklahoma to the skyscrapers and bright lights of New York City. Mickey spent his entire major league baseball career with the New York Yankees as center fielder, right fielder and first baseman.

In 1956 Mickey Mantle was the most valuable player at the American League three times, won the Triple Crown and hit more home runs in the World Series. As a Hall of Famer, he was one of the most famous sports figures of his era. He entertained the world with his boyish Oklahoma charm and his amazing Paul Bunyan-like heroics.

NEW MEXICO

A petroglyph is an image carved into rock through a variety of methods. It was used by the Pueblo Indians thousands of years ago and over 20,000 of them are at home here at the Petroglyph

National Monument, located in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Once called Indian Petroglyph State Park, it became a national monument in 1990 through the hard work of many conservation groups.

Boca Negra Canyon is one of the units of the monument and where it also got its start. There are three easy to moderate trails found here and the volcanic rocks have many drawings of figures of people, animals and ceremonial and religious symbol carvings. Along the trails are interpretive signs that help to explain the images and their contents. Archaeologists have dated some of the carvings, primarily those found here in the Boca Negra Canyon area, as far back as 3,000 years ago.

I like to think of that image carved in rock as an outdoor art gallery for us to enjoy.

Six Best S'more Recipes for Your Next Camping Trip

If you're a fan of S'mores you're going to love these fun twists on the old classic. These are some of our favorite s'mores recipes! Very few things can beat the warm, gooey dessert after a dinner of grilled hot dogs or burgers.

1. Fudge Stripe S'mores - This is one we've seen done by campers all across the country. We love it because it's simpler than a traditional s'more, but still just as delicious. To make a fudge stripe s'more, simply wedge a roasted marshmallow between two Keebler Fudge Stripe Cookies, making sure the bottoms of the cookies are facing in. The marshmallow melts the chocolate on the cookie bottoms, creating that melty goodness we all love without any need for a chocolate bar.

2. Peppermint S'mores - One of our absolute favorite flavor combinations is peppermint and chocolate, especially during the holidays. Therefore, it only made sense to include a peppermint chocolate s'mores recipe on our list. To make this one, you'll need three things: Graham crackers, dark chocolate peppermint bark and Peppermint marshmallows. Use these ingredients to assemble a s'more sandwich as you normally would, and enjoy the minty, chocolatey s'mores you've created.

3. Peanut Butter S'mores - Another fantastic flavor combination is peanut butter and chocolate. For this one, you have a couple of options. You can either assemble the sandwich as usual but adding a smear of peanut butter to one graham cracker, or you can opt to use a regular size Reese's Peanut Butter Cup in place of the usual chocolate bar. Some people also prefer to use chocolate graham crackers in lieu of honey grahams.

4. Triple Chocolate S'mores - Sometimes you just need a little extra chocolate in your life. This is where triple chocolate s'mores come into play. These incredible treats pack as much chocolate as possible into one divine dessert that you'll want to enjoy time and time again. To make a triple chocolate s'mores, you will need: Chocolate dipped graham crackers, Chocolate Marshmallows, and Hershey's Chocolate Bars. Use these three treats to assemble s'mores and create something magical.

5. Strawberry Banana S'mores - Feeling fruity? Strawberry banana s'mores might be just the thing. Create these simply by adding slices of strawberry and banana to a regular s'mores.

For even more deliciousness, consider adding a smear of Nutella to one of the graham crackers. Either way, you're sure to adore the flavor of chocolate-covered strawberries and bananas mixed with the gooey sweetness that is a toasted marshmallow.

6. Cookie S'mores - Those looking for a simple way to mix up their traditional campfire treat need only look as far as their pantry. Just pull out whatever cookies you have inside and use them in place of graham crackers. This adds new depth to the classic dessert, and if you have enough different kinds of cookies on hand, it gives everyone the opportunity to create their own version.

Product Highlights

ONLY ONE PRODUCT NEEDED FOR LOTS OF DIFFERENT STAINS

RVs have a wide range of surfaces that get dirty. That's why professional detailers and savvy owners choose Serious Multi-purpose Cleaner (SMC) from Shurhold. Bleach-free, it's the one bottle they reach for when cleaning everything from the interior to the wheels—even the body before waxing.

SMC degreases as it removes built-up dirt and grime. Strong enough to remove oily, black exhaust stains, the unique formula won't harm or discolor vinyl graphics and wraps. With no slippery residue, it's perfect for carpeting and hard flooring. It's equally effective on rubber, plastic, acrylic, glass, metal, paint and fiberglass. It'll even clean the dirtiest BBQ grill.

Few products are as easy to use as SMC. It's simply sprayed on and wiped off. For really nasty stains, it can set for three minutes.

Made in the USA, a 32-ounce spray bottle of Shurhold SMC (Serious Multi-purpose Cleaner) costs $11.98. A one-gallon container of concentrate mixes with water to make five gallons of solution; it runs $24.98.

LIFE INDUSTRIES SANITIZER OFFERS LONG-TERM PROTECTION

As soon as alcohol-based cleaners dry, they offer no additional protection. Sanitizer from Life Industries, however, continues to disinfect long after it's applied. Its active ingredient reduces bacterial contamination on hard surfaces up to a week after treatment. Not only is less product needed long-term, thus reducing overall costs, but safety is increased.

The COVID-19 pandemic has educated Americans and Canadians on the importance of cleanliness. Life Industries Sanitizer contains benzalkonium chloride (BZK), a safe ingredient that continues working to reduce the reformation of bacterial colonies after it's applied, unlike alcohol-based products. BZK is an FDA- and CDC-approved alternative to alcohol-based disinfectants.

Sanitizer is ideal for use on boats, RV and aircraft, as well as around the home, office and manufacturing plant. It's available in 4, 8, 12, 16 and 32 fl. oz. spray bottles, plus 16 fl. oz and 1 gal. refill bottles. Prices start at $2.63.

Life Industries develops, formulates and manufactures commercial chemical products including cleaners, protectants, caulks, sealants and restoration items. Its brands include BoatLIFE, RV by LIFE and AeroLIFE.
